

Mentor's Reflection by Mrs. Niki Adamson, Madison's mother:

Dear Madi,

I can't believe we are here already. I remember so vividly being pregnant with you and scared I will mess things up. Madison Christina, you have made it so easy on me. I think back through all the years on all your accomplishments, and there are too many to list. Ever since you were little, you had this ambition to try to be perfect. I remember you crying about a "B" on a test and me trying to calm you down.

Your work ethic, drive, and determination are what got you the Sectional Championship title, the Salutatorian honors, and your full-ride scholarship. Please remember life will not be perfect. You will have ups and you will have downs. Please remember to relax and relish in the experiences you will have going forward. Sometimes in life, the things that were not planned end up being your biggest blessings.

I am so sorry that your senior year has ended the way that it has, but it will certainly give you all stories for a lifetime. I could not be more proud of the woman you are becoming. They say it takes a village to raise a child, and that could not be more true in your case. You have so many people in your corner. So never forget you have your Village and we will be here for you no matter what. Good luck in your next 4 years and know I love you beyond what words can describe. GO EXPLORERS!

Love,

Mom

Senior's Reflection by Madison Beriault:

My mom is my greatest mentor. As I was deciding on who to choose, I started thinking about all of my teachers and coaches, but I quickly realized my real mentor has been right beside me my entire life. Her strength, work ethic, compassion, and selflessness inspire me every day. She gives the best advice and is my biggest support system.

My mom puts the ones she loves before herself and makes countless sacrifices for me and my brothers. She puts her all into everything she is involved in, whether that's being a mom, a friend, an organizer, a sister, a daughter, or a coach. She challenges me every single day to be the best version of myself and pushes me beyond limits I thought I could reach. Through every high and low of my life, she has been right there through it all. My biggest cheerleader, yet my biggest motivation. I am so thankful for the relationship I have with my mom, and I will cherish the lessons and values she has instilled in me for the rest of my life.
